-----X

Petitioners-Plaintiffs THE COUNTY OF ORANGE, STEVEN M. NEUHAUS, in his capacity as County Executive of the County of Orange, ORANGE COUNTY DEPARTMENT OF SOCIAL SERVICES, and DARCIE M. MILLER, in her capacity as Commissioner of the Orange County Department of Social Services, (collectively "the County") by their attorney

RICHARD B. GOLDEN, Orange County Attorney, as and for its Petition and Complaint, upon information belief, allege as follows:

NATURE OF PROCEEDING

1. The County brings this combined Article 78 special proceeding/complaint to enjoin the Respondents from establishing an unregulated homeless shelter within the County of Orange by, to wit, transporting and/or housing 620, and possibly more, adult men experiencing homelessness, who currently reside at a temporary shelter in New York City, (the “Proposed Transfer”), to proposed temporary shelters at the Respondents “Crossroads Hotel-Newburgh,” located at 5 Lakeside Road, Newburgh, New York, (the “Crossroads”) and “Ramada by Wyndham Newburgh/West Point,” located at 1289 N.Y. 300, Newburgh, NY 12550 (the “Ramada”) (collectively the “Hotel Respondents”).

2. Respondents-Defendants City of New York, Eric Adams, Molly Wasow Park, and the New York City Department of Social Services (collectively the “City Respondents”) decision for the Proposed Transfer exceeds their legal authority because the City Respondents only have authority to operate and create temporary shelters for adults within the five boroughs of New York City.

3. Nor may the City Respondents operate the Crossroads or the Ramada as a temporary shelter for adults, and implement the Proposed Transfer, under the purported emergency powers of Respondent-Defendant Adams under his Emergency Executive Order No. 398, issued May 5, 2023 (“EO 398”).

4. Mayor Adams’ enactment of EO 398 was part of a fundamentally flawed process and exceeded the scope of the Mayor’s authority under Executive Order No. 224, issued October 7, 2022 (“EO 224”), as extended by subsequent orders up to and including Executive Order No.

374 issued April 5, 2023 (“EO 374”). These Executive Orders purported to suspend various laws and rules applying to the siting, construction, and operations of “Humanitarian Emergency Response and Relief Centers,” or “HERRCs,” and suspended various sections of the New York City Charter, the New York City Administrative Code, and the Rules of the City of New York relating thereto. It provided no legal authority for the City to act outside of its jurisdictional borders, nor could it.

5. The City’s use of EO 398 to effectuate the Proposed Transfer is clearly ultra vires, as it is based upon “the arrival of thousands of individuals seeking asylum, first declared in [EO 224],” not, as New York Executive Law § 24 requires, to protect the public health in “the event of a disaster, rioting, catastrophe, or similar public emergency within the territorial limits of the [City]” and upon any “finding of the chief executive thereof that the public safety is imperiled thereby.”

6. The Court should annul these determinations and enjoin the Proposed Transfer, and to the extent any transfers have already occurred, enjoin further transfers, as they exceed the Mayor’s authority under the limited scope of EO 224 and violate New York Executive Law § 24.

7. Petitioners-Plaintiffs oppose the City Respondents’ illegal and misguided attempts to manage their burdens and assumed responsibilities within their borders by offloading them onto the County, which is already overburdened with responsibilities to its own citizens, with no planning whatsoever and without following the rules in place for managing such issues.

8. On or about May 5, 2023, Respondent Adams announced that the City Respondents would move “60” single-adult men to one hotel in Orange County, The Crossroads. Subsequent to this announcement, and upon information and belief, the County has learned this was a smokescreen, as the City Respondents have arranged for beds to house over 600 single adult men within two hotels in Orange County. And of course, the City's obfuscation thus far make it likely the number may be far greater.

9. This would, overnight, more than double the County's homeless population, with no planning, no coordination, and no funding in place to support this population in the long term, who are unlikely to be either returned to the City or other locations in the medium or short-term. The City has failed to provide answers to even basic questions about these individuals from County officials: who are they, what is their immunization status, do they have criminal backgrounds?

10. Moreover, aside from its dramatic impact on the County's already strained social services system, the Proposed Transfer will likely create its own public health impacts by uprooting a now stable homeless population of hundreds of single-adult men, move them to Orange County, all with no viable plan going forward.

11. As further evidence of the City Respondents' subterfuge, on or about May 10, 2023, Orange County officials were assured by City officials that no homeless would be bussed to Orange County for the time being. Nonetheless, and despite these assurances, busses showed up at the Crossroads on May 11, 2023, with no notice, and unloaded homeless men pursuant to the City's illegal Proposed Transfer plan. The County Respondents know nothing about these individuals and was unprepared for their arrival, in light of the City's Potemkin promises.

12. Petitioners-Plaintiffs are not asserting that these particular individuals are problematic, nor are they opining on the fundamental political questions of the United States' immigration policies, but rather it is the actions of the City of New York and its reckless disregard for the rules that govern this state, as well as its roughshod treatment of its co-equal municipalities, that is at issue, deeply problematic, and illegal.

13. Accordingly, the City Respondents determinations to implement the Proposed Transfer, and its actual implementation, were made in excess of its lawful authority and “in violation of lawful procedure, [were] affected by an error of law [and were] arbitrary and capricious or an abuse of discretion.” CPLR § 7803(3). The Court should annul these decisions and preliminarily and permanently enjoin the Proposed Transfer, and any further transfers to the extent transfers have already taken place.

14. Similarly, the Hotel Respondents should be temporarily and permanently enjoined from accepting any further homeless individuals from the City Respondents under the Proposed Transfer plan, as the underlying Proposed Transfer plan is ultra vires.

JURISDICTION AND VENUE

25. The Court has jurisdiction over this matter pursuant to CPLR § 7803(3) because Respondents-Defendants made decisions in excess of their lawful authority and “in violation of lawful procedure, ...affected by an error of law ... [and] arbitrary and capricious ... [and] an abuse of discretion.”

26. Venue is proper in Orange County pursuant to CPLR § 506(b), because it is the County where Petitioners-Respondents conduct business, where the real property subject to the allegations and claims alleged in the petition and complaint are located, and where the consequences of the actions of the Respondents-Defendants are taking place.

27. Petitioners-Plaintiffs have standing to bring the claims asserted here as they are representatives of the public within the geographical boundaries of the County of Orange directly and adversely affected by Respondents-Defendants derogation of the law resulting from the planned use of the Crossroads and Ramada properties as a temporary homeless shelter for adults, including impacts to health, safety, and increased social services burden the Petitioners-Respondents will be required to bear by law.

28. The Petitioners-Plaintiffs are further directly injured by the Respondents-Defendants violation of Orange County Executive Order No. 1 of 2023, which was wholly ignored by the Respondents-Defendants, and have standing to enforce its own executive orders.

STATUTORY BASIS FOR AUTHORITY

29. Article XVII, § 1 of the New York State Constitution provides that “[t]he aid, care and support of the needy are public concerns and shall be provided by the state and by such of its subdivisions, and in such a manner and by such means, as the legislature may from time to time determine.

FACTS

33. In a press release dated May 5, 2023, Respondent-Defendant Adams announced a “program to provide shelter option for asylum seekers already in care in nearby New York Counties.”

34. In the press release, Adams highlighted that the program will provide up to “four months of temporary sheltering in nearby New York counties” to “single-adult men seeking asylum who are already in the city’s care.” The release continued that staff at “participating hotels will also connect asylum seekers with community-based organizations and faith groups to support their transition to a new city.” The release described the program as providing “asylum seekers with temporary housing, access to services, and connections to local communities as they build a stable life in New York state.”

35. In short, the City was clearly describing its plan to create a dedicated homeless shelter system for asylum seekers in counties outside its jurisdiction.

A. The City of New York Establishes an Illegal Homeless Shelter in Orange County

36. Though not identified in that press release, on May 5, 2023, County officials became aware that the City planned to create such a temporary homeless shelter at the respondent The Crossroads, with the proposed bussing of 60 single adult homeless men, which is within the geographical boundaries of the County of Orange. The City Respondents purpose in doing so was to expressly increase New York City homeless shelter capacity.

37. After learning of this announcement, the neighboring County of Rockland issued an executive order barring the City from carrying out its Proposed Transfer, which the City Respondents have thus far appeared to honor. The County of Rockland also obtained a temporary restraining order from the Supreme Court, Rockland County.

38. On May 9, 2023, the Orange County Executive issued Executive Order No. 1 of 2023 (the "Executive Order"), under his authority pursuant to Orange County Charter and New York Executive Law, which stated inter alia, "all hotels, motels and/or any facilities allowing short term rentals do not accept said migrants and/or asylum seekers for housing within Orange County."

39. The Executive Order noted that the County had learned the City, contrary to its published statements, intended to send hundreds of migrants to its illegal temporary homeless shelters in Orange County, that the care of these individuals would only be temporarily funded by the City, that, at the conclusion of that funding period, would be unlikely to leave Orange County and become a County responsibility, and that potentially thousands of homeless individuals being transported to Orange County would imperil public health and safety not only for the migrants and/or asylum seekers, but also the general public.

40. On or about May 10, 2023, County officials were expressly assured by City officials it would be holding off on bussing any homeless to Orange County for an indeterminate period of time.

41. Despite these assurances, on May 11, 2023, numerous buses and large vans transporting migrants and/or asylum seekers showed up at The Crossroads, with no notice to the County or its social services infrastructure, and dropped off numerous homeless men, in excess of the 60 represented, to be housed in the City-created, and illegal, temporary homeless shelter. Respondents-Defendants did so in violation of Executive Order No. 1 of 2023.

42. Upon information and belief, the City has contractual arrangements to fill the entirety of The Crossroads with hundreds of homeless and, in furtherance of this objective, The Crossroads has evicted all regular guests and tenants, cancelled all bookings, present and future, for non-homeless. Respondent EOM NEWBURGH LLC has converted itself completely from a hotel to a temporary homeless shelter, in derogation of the zoning regulations for the area in which it is located.

43. Upon further information and belief, the City has contractual arrangements with the Ramada as well, to house additional hundreds of homeless.

44. Upon information and belief, the Ramada is planning to do the same conversion, or such conversion has already occurred.

45. Upon information and belief, the County expects to the City to house at least 600 plus homeless between these two hotels, now homeless shelters, with likely additional locations of which the County is presently unaware.

46. As of April 2023, the County presently serves a homeless population of approximately 437 individuals, including families and single adults.

47. The City's Transfer Proposal provides funding for only four months, and does not support this population indefinitely into the future. Thus, at the conclusion of the four month funding period, it is reasonably expected these hundreds (perhaps thousands) of homeless will become a County of Orange responsibility, for which the County lacks the resources to support and far exceeds its present demands and infrastructure.

48. The City has further ignored requests for basic information about the individuals housed in the shelters, including names, dates of birth, legal status, immunization status, and criminal background.

49. Upon information and belief, the City and/or its contractual shelter operators are arranging for bussing to take the homeless individuals into Orange County communities, all without any information as to whether these individuals constitute a public safety or public health risk.

50. Upon information and belief, the City Respondents have hired shelter operators to run the shelter, hired shelter staff, established rules for resident conduct, established curfews, and hired security, mirroring in all but-name a homeless shelter.

51. Upon information and belief, the City Respondents have secured all hotel rooms at The Crossroads, and limited occupancy to only homeless single-adult men, evincing the operation of a homeless shelter as it is defined under the definitions and regulations applicable thereto.

52. Upon information and belief, the City Respondents will be providing case management, laundry services, and three meals per day, none of which is consistent with a hotel stay of a guest, at no cost. These are not “emergency use hotels” but temporary homeless shelters.

53. In conducting themselves as aforementioned, Respondents-Defendants are seeking to establish, and have established, a shelter outside the scope of Article 2-A of the Social Services Law and NYS OTDA licensure requirements, which includes plan submission, notice requirements, and certifications under 18 NYCRR Parts 352, 491, and 900. These requirements cannot be waived by the City via executive order, and certainly not in areas outside the jurisdiction of the City or its Mayor.

54. The Respondents-Defendants have established a temporary homeless shelter without the approval or licensure of the New York State Office of Temporary Disability and Assistance.

B. The Court Should Enter a Preliminary Injunction While the Proceeding is Pending

55. The purpose of a preliminary injunction is to maintain the status quo until a decision can be reached on the merits of a case. Three factors govern the issuance of a preliminary injunction: (i) a likelihood of success on the merits, (ii) the prospect of irreparable injury in the absence of an injunction; and (iii) a balance of equities in the movant’s favor. See CPLR § 6301.

56. First, for each of the reasons set forth herein, Petitioners have established a likelihood of success on the merits.

57. Second, Petitioners establish irreparable harm because, absent a preliminary injunction, the Proposed Transfer would have profound, and irreversible, effects on the residents of Orange County.

58. Orange County's limited shelter resources are already at its maximum and affordable housing options are extremely limited in this largely rural and suburban county. The County simply cannot absorb hundreds, if not thousands, of individuals in need of housing, public services, and medical care, which would double or triple the current homeless population it is presently supporting.

59. Under present regulation and administrative guidance from OTDA, a social services district has the responsibility to (1) find appropriate placements for homeless individuals and families, notwithstanding whether another district is fiscally responsible and (2) if an individual leaves the out-of-district placement, the placing district is only responsible for approximately the first two months of a new permanent placement. This means, if any of the individuals placed by New York City leave the City's illegal shelter system, they will become a County responsibility.

60. The Petitioners-Plaintiffs reasonably believe that after the proposed four-month period, the homeless individuals housed in Orange County will not leave the County, and the City will be under no obligation to continue to support these individuals who are no longer "their problem."

61. Moreover, it is reasonably likely such individuals will naturally leave the placement and not return, instead opting to live in the community without restriction. Thus, this population will likely become a County responsibility for years, if not permanently.

62. Furthermore, The Crossroads and the Ramada are in areas lacking the infrastructure to support a permanent, resident homeless population in need of comprehensive social services, particularly once the City's temporary support is inevitably withdrawn.

63. Accordingly, in failing to follow application regulations and appropriate procedures, the Respondents-Defendants have caused irreparable harm to the Petitioners-Plaintiffs, both as residents and the residents that they represent, serve, and support in their official capacity.

64. Finally, a balancing of the equities favors granting preliminary injunctive relief to Petitioners-Plaintiffs.

65. It would be inequitable, if not unconscionable, to allow the Proposed Transfer to go forward, or continue to go forward beyond where it already has, where an ultimate decision adverse to the Respondents-Defendants on the merits would force the further dislocation of the homeless individuals placed illegally in the County.

66. Moreover, the prejudice to Petitioners-Plaintiffs in allowing the Proposed Transfer would be significant, likely permanently impacting both County government and communities within the County, and would render any ultimate relief in their favor ineffectual.

AS AND FOR A FIRST CAUSE OF ACTION

Respondents have Exceeded the Scope of their Legal Authority – Proposed Transfer

67. Petitioners-Plaintiffs repeat and re-alleged the previous paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.

68. Respondents-Defendants cannot operate The Crossroads and/or The Ramada as a temporary shelter for adults outside the geographical boundaries of the City.

69. As the proposed shelter is not a permitted use in the Town of Newburgh's applicable zoning district, the City has no authority to establish such use.

70. As the proposed shelter is also in violation of Orange County Executive Order No. 1 of 2023, and the Respondents-Defendants lack any authority to override a co-equal municipal directive, it is acting outside the scope of any cognizable legal authority.

71. Respondents-Defendants efforts to implement the Proposed Transfer is in excess of any legal authority.

72. Accordingly, the Court should annul and enjoin Respondents-Defendants' determination to (i) open The Crossroads and/or the Ramada, and/or all other known, and unknown, locations, as temporary homeless shelters outside the City of New York and (ii) implement the Proposed Transfer.

AS AND FOR A SECOND CAUSE OF ACTION

Respondents have Exceeded the Scope of their Legal Authority – Enactment of EO 398

73. Petitioners-Plaintiffs repeat and re-alleged the previous paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.

74. Respondents-Defendants efforts to (i) open The Crossroads and/or The Ramada as a temporary shelter for adults and (ii) implement the Proposed Transfer are in excess of any legal authority.

75. Respondents-Defendants have exceeded the scope of EO 224 by the opening of a temporary shelter for adults in the County of Orange.

76. Respondents-Defendants have no legal authority to circumvent the executive orders of another County or the zoning rules and regulations of Towns outside of the City of New York, as a co-equal municipal entity.

77. EO 224 and EO 398 do not provide the City any authority to do anything outside the City of New York.

78. Respondents-Defendants use of EO 398 extending EO 224 to circumvent the City Charter exceeds Respondents-Defendants' legal authority and is improper as a matter of law.

79. Accordingly, the Court should annul and enjoin Respondents-Defendants' determination to (i) open The Crossroads and/or the Ramada, and/or all other known, and unknown, locations, as temporary homeless shelters outside the City of New York and (ii) implement the Proposed Transfer.

AS AND FOR A THIRD CAUSE OF ACTION

The City Respondents were Arbitrary and Capricious in its Decision-Making

80. Petitioners-Plaintiffs repeat and re-alleged the previous paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.

81. Respondents-Defendants efforts to (i) open The Crossroads and/or The Ramada as a temporary shelter for adults and (ii) implement the Proposed Transfer were made in violation of lawful procedure, affected by an error of law, and arbitrary and capricious and an abuse of discretion.

82. Respondents-Defendants did not follow any deliberative, evidence-based process in reaching the above-referenced determinations.

83. Indeed, Respondents-Defendants expressly acted on subterfuge, misdirection, and in willful violation of the zoning laws and executive orders of another co-equal government, with no notice or deliberation at all.

84. Respondents-Defendants gave no consideration whatsoever on the impact to the community, the legal framework of their actions, or the capacity of the County of Orange to absorb the City's homeless population.

85. By rushing to move hundreds of homeless to Orange County, Respondents-Defendants are creating a new public health and safety crisis in Orange County.

86. Accordingly, the Court should annul and enjoin Respondents-Defendants' determination to (i) open The Crossroads and/or the Ramada, and/or all other known, and unknown, locations, as temporary homeless shelters outside the City of New York and (ii) implement the Proposed Transfer.

AS AND FOR A FOURTH CAUSE OF ACTION

Declaratory Relief

87. Petitioners-Plaintiffs repeat and re-alleged the previous paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.

88. Petitioners-Plaintiffs seek a declaratory judgment to specify and determine the rights and duties of the parties.

89. Pursuant to CPLR §3001, Plaintiffs-Petitioners seek a declaratory judgment to specify and determine the right and duties of the parties, including, but not limited to, that (1) the Respondents-Defendants Proposed Transfer was ultra vires, that (2) the Respondents-Defendants are subject to local zoning and applicable Executive Orders in the jurisdiction where a proposed shelter is located; and (3) that the Respondents-Defendants are required to obtain licensure and registration through the New York State Office of Temporary Disability and Assistance before opening a temporary homeless shelter.

90. Pursuant to CPLR § 3001, a judicial declaration is necessary and appropriate at this time in order that each of the parties may know their respective rights and duties and act accordingly.

AS AND FOR FIFTH CAUSE OF ACTION

Permanent Injunctive Relief

91. Petitioners-Plaintiffs repeat and re-alleged the previous paragraphs as if set forth fully herein.

92. Based upon the foregoing, the balancing of the equities is in favor of Petitioners-Plaintiffs and they have no adequate remedy at law.

93. Unless Respondents-Defendants are permanently restrained from causing serious and irreparable injury, which includes injury to government, permanent injury to the community, and injuries to individuals and families, both in and outside the Respondents illegal shelter system.

94. For the same reasons outlined above in support of the Petitioners-Plaintiffs application for a preliminary injunction, the same reasons and repeated and re-alleged as if set forth fully herein, and which fully support permanent injunctive relief.

95. Pursuant to CPLR § 6301 et seq., a permanent injunction is sought to restrain Respondents-Defendants.

WHEREFORE, Petitioners-Plaintiffs respectfully demands judgment as follows:

- (a) Declaring that Respondents-Defendants are acting without lawful authority, in violation of lawful procedure, making determinations affected by errors of law, acting arbitrarily and capriciously and abusing their discretion in determining to
- (i) open The Crossroads and/or the Ramada, and/or all other known, and unknown, locations, as temporary homeless shelters outside the City of New York and (ii) implement the Proposed Transfer of potentially hundreds of New York City homeless to Orange County;

- (b) Annuling Respondents-Defendants determinations to (i) open The Crossroads and/or the Ramada, and/or all other known, and unknown, locations, as temporary homeless shelters outside the City of New York and (ii) implement the Proposed Transfer of potentially hundreds of New York City homeless to Orange County;
- (c) Temporarily restraining, and preliminarily and permanently enjoining Respondents-Defendants from (i) opening The Crossroads and/or the Ramada, and/or all other known, and unknown, locations, as temporary homeless shelters outside the City of New York and (ii) implementing the Proposed Transfer of potentially hundreds of New York City homeless to Orange County;
- (d) Pursuant to CPLR § 3001 declaring the rights and other legal relations of the parties;
- (e) Awarding Petitioners-Plaintiffs their costs and disbursements; and
- (c) for such other and further relief as this Court deems just and proper.
